Business

Discover the ways in which composting can be of mutual benefit to your business, your local community and the environment

- Remember that landfill tax is continuing to rise and by 2014 will be £80 per tonne.
- You and your company can help to reduce methane and CO2 by composting all your food waste. Rotters Community Composting has years of experience in recycling food waste and is the only DEFRA Category 3 certified site on Merseyside. If your company is based in the Liverpool area, we can tailor a collection service to suit your company's individual needs and requirements.
- Alternatively, we are able to offer advice and consultations about the possibilities of various on-site composting options.
- Rotters can provide seminars and/or interactive workshops about how your company can reduce not only the waste thrown away to landfill, but also your bills. By creating a more sustainable way of disposing your waste, you can help your pocket as well as the environment.
- We offer an Environmental Awareness course.

AIMS & OBJECTIVES

Rotters Community Composting exists to reduce waste sent to landfill by providing weekly collections of garden and kitchen waste. The material is then processed into compost, which is made available for sale.

Rotters aims to contribute to the lasting regeneration of South Liverpool by providing volunteering opportunities for local residents and creating links with other community groups in the Garston area.

In line with this mission, Rotters seeks to:

- ◆ Reduce the amount of waste sent to landfill
- ◆ Raise the general awareness of those we come into contact with in regard to the environment
- ◆ Increase our contact with the local community
- ◆ Provide volunteering opportunities
